The final standings report of contestants in the Herald's subscription campaign is published today on this page, along with a "Calendar of Closing" of the campaign, set for next Friday.

That means that the end of the big campaign, which has retained eleven of the sixteen originally enrolled contestants, still in the race — still working — is now only hours away. Friday, 10:30 a. m., marks the ending of this five-week campaign.

The number of subscriptions sold is now heading toward the 2,000 mark, and these next closing three days of selling will again up the total figure.

Since publication of the last standings report last Thursday there have been further placement changes, as the new report today shows. What it does not show, however, is the very closeness in some of these races. In one instance, a single subscription sale could change the standing; could elevate one — lower another.

To drop from the $500 prize bracket into the next bracket lower ($300) means a net loss to the contestant of ($200). You can be sure that all contestants are aware of this and are straining to get every possible subscription in these closing hours.

Mrs. Patsy Matula retains the top position. Mrs. Willie Schwarz has forged ahead of Jerry Schoppe and he is now being crowded by Mrs. Myrtle Dorner. It will take the final vote count to decide this race.

Competition is also very keen for the two $300 prizes and for the two prizes of $150. Actually, a spurt by some listed below seventh place, could put them into the money-winning prize group.

Monday night brought the end of a separate competition which has continued since the opening. Three prizes of $50 each were offered for most new subscription sales, in three divisions — for contestants living in Cameron; for contestants living in other towns of the county; for contestants living on rural routes or rural areas.

The three $50 winners are Mrs. Patsy Matula, Mrs. Myrtle Dorner and Mrs. Wilburn Shuffield and Jerry Schoppe who received $25 each when a tie point count resulted.

Every single subscription sold in these closing hours of the campaign, could be a decisive factor in the prize awards next Friday. No matter what place a contestant now holds in the standings, that position is anything but secure.

Bargain subscription prices which have prevailed all through the campaign are almost at an end. There is still time, however to take advantage of low rates during these closing hours. All subscriptions given to contestants, or mailed or brought to the office prior to 10:30 a. m. Friday will be eligible for the bargain rates.

And most important of all, those last minute subscriptions could decide which contestant wins which prize — will help your favorite win.

BID LET FOR CONSTRUCTION OF NEW WING

Low bidder on the 21-bed addition to Cameron Nursing Home is Chandler Construction Co., according to co-owner Mrs. Willis Kuhn.

She told The Herald that the Chandler concern had the low bid of five submitted. The plans were drawn by Jimmy Fleetwood, of Hearn.

Construction is scheduled to begin about June 3 unless weather prevents it, Mrs. Kuhn said.

A 5,000-square-foot wing is planned for the nursing home, presently housing 20 occupants at 709 E. 11th St.

Owners are planning a wing extending north and facing on E. 12th St. It will double the size of the operation, increasing capacity to 41 beds.

It will be a one-story building of masonry construction with a solar screen front, like the one facing E. 11th St.

Kitchen facilities will be enlarged and an office will be built into the new wing. A nurses station will be constructed between present and new facilities. And a patio is included in expansion plans.

Total size of the entire operation will be 8,850 square feet.

Owners are Mr. and Mrs. Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Folschinsky.

The Cameron Chamber of Commerce is conducting a survey this week among Cameron residents who wish to take a Dale Carnegie instruction course.

The famous program of personal improvement is presented by qualified personnel in a 14-week series of conferences and meetings.

A trial session will be offered. Chamber officials invited interested replies this week to determine if a class of 25 people can be organized in Cameron.

Texts and other materials are provided participating students — who usually come from the ranks of business and professional fields. But the course is open to all persons seeking self-improvement.

Cost of the 14-week course is $150 per student which includes cost of texts. Each session lasts about 4 hours and is directed by a qualified Dale Carnegie instructor.

Groups in Marlin and Taylor are currently organizing for the course. John Broyles, Dale Carnegie representative, says a "money-back" guarantee is offered to any student and will be honored if each student does not feel he can use the gain in his self-investment.

Reduced student rates are available for concerns encouraging or paying part of employees way through the course.

If interested, contact the Chamber office or Frank Luecke, education chairman, OX 7-4671.

Succeeds Henderson

Griffith Is Judge

Roy Griffith, veteran city councilman and former mayor of Cameron, has been appointed city judge to succeed John B. Henderson, Jr., whose resignation June 1 left the city vacancy.

Henderson is to succeed Jack W. Prescott, county attorney, June 15 when Prescott vacates his office to take up private law practice in Temple.

Griffith has served on the City Council and as mayor for 22 years the longest continuous term of service in modern city history.

A retired barber, he has lived in Cameron since 1906. He was a barber until his retirement in 1953.

His new post leaves a vacancy on City Council. Mayor Coleman Dun-cum Tuesday told The Herald that several possibilities have been considered for an appointed successor, but none has yet been named.

He said the Council will discuss appointees during the next week.

This is not the only city position in the Griffith family. His son-in-law, T. A. Crittenden, formerly of Cameron, is the mayor of Bartlett.

Griffith has two daughters, Mrs. Crittenden of Bartlett, and Mrs. R. W. Peterson, of Houston.

He has also been active in the First Methodist Church where he has served as a member of the Board of Stewards for a number of terms.

3 OTHERS PLEAD GUILTY, DRAW PROBATED TERMS

Willie Eugene Milo Tuesday entered a plea of guilty in Milam District Court to a charge of assault with intent to murder and drew an eight-year prison term.

The term will be subject to probation according to the parole and probation laws of Texas, according to County Atty. Jack Prescott.

Saturday, Edwin Andrew Holland was tried on four counts of burglary and drew seven-year terms in each case. Holland had been indicted last week by a Milam Grand Jury.

In other cases, Charles Ray Walker, Jr., 19, was tried on a charge of burglary and received a five-year probation sentence.

And Donald Ray Wilcox, 19, was tried for burglary and was given a four-year probation by the Court.

The trial of Robert Eugene Foster, 33, of Rt. 3, Cameron, has been tentatively set for 9 a. m. Thursday in District Court. He was indicted by the April session of the Grand Jury on a charge of DWI. Second offense.

He was arrested after a high speed chase west of Milano. The chase ended in Milano when his car went out of control and stopped broadside in the roadway. The pursuing highway patrol car, driven by trooper Durwood Kennedy, crashed into the Foster car. No one was injured.

The trial date is tentative because Judge W. C. Wallace is in Austin hearing a case. He is expected to return to hear this case.

One Injured In Bus - Truck Collision On 190

Only one person was injured 3:10 p. m. Thursday in a collision of an O. J. Thomas School bus with 35 students aboard and a gas truck loaded with 210 gallons of gas and 50 gallons of naphtha.

Hubert Lyles Colburn, of Cameron, driver of the truck, suffered slight injuries to his head. Durwood Kennedy, investigating highway patrolman, said both the truck and bus were traveling east on US 190 about 1 1/2 miles east of its intersection with US 77 when the accident occurred.

The truck started to make a right turn into a private driveway when the bus, driven by James Petty, an O. J. Thomas teacher, hit the truck in the rear.

Kennedy said the blinker light on the truck apparently was not working at the time of the accident and the bus driver did not see the truck slowing down. He said the bus failed to maintain proper distance.

None of the students were injured in the accident, Kennedy said.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Brod, 50,

Funeral services were held 4 p. m. Monday for Mrs. Juanita Brod, 50, of Cameron, who died suddenly early Sunday at a local hospital.

Services conducted by Mr. Don Frasier, former minister of the Cameron Church of Christ, were held at Green Funeral Home. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Survivors are her husband, Edwin Brod of Cameron, and her mother, Mrs. Dora Smith of Cameron.

She was born in Cameron, December 17, 1912 and was the only daughter of Otto and Dora Brahm Smith. She was married to Edwin (Zeke) Brod June 23, 1934.

She was educated in the Cameron schools and was a member of the Church of Christ.

Palbearers were Porter Young, Gene Smitherman, Travis Anderson, Hubert Sims, Vaughn Jenness, Preston H. Perry, Brann Allison, John Eanes, and Dr. R. M. Tittsworth.

Library Plans New Program

An outstanding summer program at the Cameron Public Library is being planned for Cameron children, pre-school through sixth grade students.

An 8-week program of story hours will begin June 25 with programs from 10 to 11 a. m. at the Library. In addition to the story hours, Library officials will sponsor a reading program in connection with the State library program.

Children reading 12 books during the summer will receive a certificate from the State and the local library will present awards to those who read more than the required 12.

STARTS JUNE 25

Pre-school children will meet every Tuesday at the library beginning June 25. Their program will include the classic children's stories followed by activity periods of music, finger plays and painting.

First through third grade children will meet each Wednesday beginning June 26 with a varied program of animal stories, fairy tales, folk tales and sports stories. Activities for this group will be keyed to the stories.

Fourth through sixth grades will be introduced to the heroes of their own area. Their program will emphasize the pioneers of the Southwest, the Indians, and the cowboys. This group will meet each Thursday morning beginning June 27.

Planning committee for the program, first of its kind in Cameron include Miss Mildred Thornton, Library Board President; Mrs. Dana Kestenbaum, Mrs. Robert Elliott, Mrs. James Wiggs, Mrs. James Brock, Mrs. Frank Luecke, Miss Mary Randolph and Mrs. James Kahler.

AID SOUGHT

The committee will be contacting residents to assist in carrying out the program and volunteers for story telling or assistance for the related activities are needed.

Mrs. Robert Elliott will direct the 4th through 6th grade group, Mrs. James Kahler the first through third grade and Mrs. Frank Luecke the pre-school group.

The program is designed as a complete session each meeting so that it will not be necessary for children to attend each week, allowing for vacation and other summer activities.

In announcing the schedule Miss Thornton stressed that it is principally to interest children in the library and to show them at an early age the fun and entertainment to be found in books.

She added that the program would be more of a recreation type activity than a school atmosphere, in keeping with vacation time, and that it would be challenging to every child.

County Agents Notes...

Crop Report In Milam County

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent

Recent good rains in the north and south part of Milam county furnished much needed moisture for all crops in those areas. In the central part of the county from east to west a half inch of rain did not furnish enough moisture for rapidly growing corn and maize.

New Publication On Soil Problem

For the suburban dweller who has a soil problem in his garden, or the engineer looking for a building site, the latest publication by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service will come in mighty handy. It is called "Know Your Soil" and explains how soil scientists of the Department of Agriculture are gradually mapping the soil soft his country and what these maps mean to every citizen.

A copy may be obtained from the local SCS office, Cameron, Waynes, Milam, Work Unit Conservationist, soil.

A soil is three-dimensional, according to the publication. "It is bounded on the top by the surface of the land, on the bottom by rock, and on the sides by other soils. The first job of the soil scientist is to distinguish between these separate soils. More than 70,000 different kinds are recognized now."

"While the original purpose of making soil surveys was to provide information to the Nation's farmers so that they could better take care of its food-producing soil, gradually more and more people in all walks of life are seeing the need about soil," Mann said. "Septic tanks that won't work, houses that slide from their foundations, and highways that crack up, might be prevented by knowing more about soils."

crops. The harvesting of wheat and oats were delayed due to increased moisture condition in the grain.

Hay harvest is well under way with the cutting of Johnson grass and oats for hay. This operation however is seasonal and will continue through June. Most critical is the need for additional moisture for corn and maize. With the use of a record tonnage of commercial fertilizer, up to a 100 per cent increase in yields would not have been uncommon for corn and maize. We never had a better prospect, limited only to moisture and harvest hazards.

Faring best is the cotton crop. The cotton plant is a deep rooted plant and required most of its moisture during the heaviest fruiting stage. Most cotton farmers have poisoned their cotton from 2 to 3 applications and young squares are common.

An excellent tomato crop harvest will start the last week in May and early June. After getting off to a slow start, the tomato crop is good. Watermelon prospects received a big boost with good rains last week.

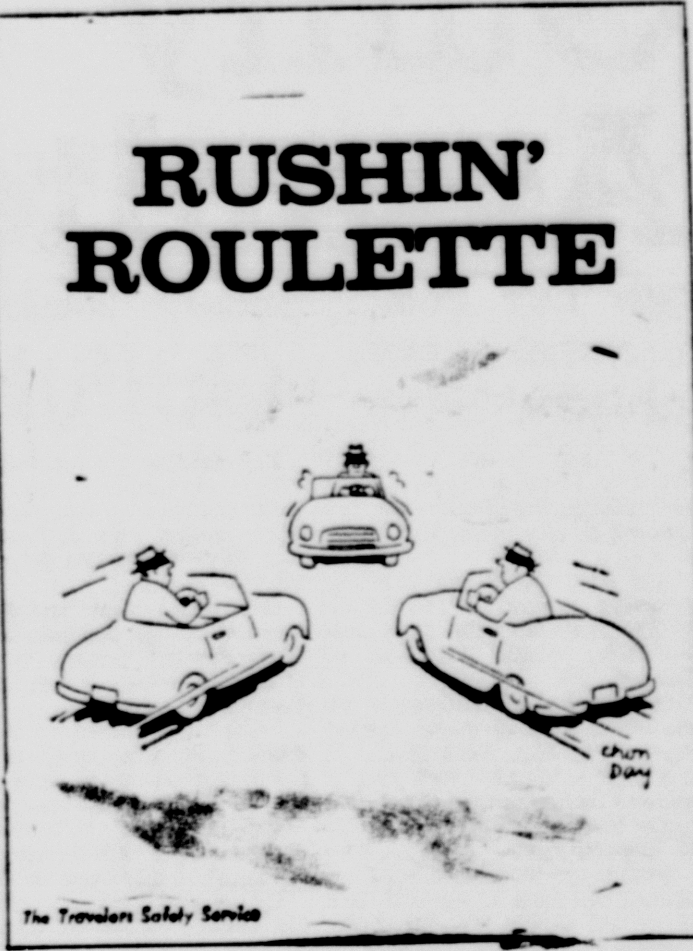

Pecan and fruit trees have set a good crop and ripe plums are reaching the market. Casebearer damage to pecans is moderate with possibly a 10 to 20 per cent damage. Many orchards have been sprayed for casebearer control with good results.

With normal rainfall, Milam County could produce a better than average crop in 1963.

Sudha Bhagwat Haley of Bombay India, will be the guest speaker at the First Christian Church Sunday June 9 at 7 p. m.

Following the church service she will present her classical Indian dance in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Haley will also display interesting objects from India.

Milam ASCS Report

Measurement of 1963 allotment crops and acreages requiring determinations under the 1963 feed grain program and conservation reserve program has begun in Milam County according to Alva E. Sanders, office manager of the Milam County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Service.

The farm operator, or his representative who is familiar with the farm, is being requested to assist the field reporter in making necessary measurements and to point out the farm boundaries and the various land uses. After the farm has been measured, the operator should review with the reporter all of the information entered on the report of acreage to assure himself that the correct information has been entered on the form and that all deductions have been made.

Acreage to be diverted under the 1963 feed grain program must be designated by the farmer at the time the farm is measured. After the acreage is measured, the operator cannot change his mind and designate another area instead. Acreage which has been grazed after May 1st of land off which hay has been baled or other crop harvested this year, will not qualify for designation as delivered acreage.

Farmers will be notified of the acreage determinations just as soon as the necessary work is completed in the county office. Excess or deficiency notices should be given prompt attention. Fifteen days from the date of the notice will be allowed to destroy excess acreage or designate additional diverted acreage. Anyone who does not fully understand their notice should call at the County ASCS Office, Sanders said.

THE PEOPLE WANT TO KNOW... the source of freedom

As primitive men grew in intelligence and knowledge some developed such attributes of character as honesty, generosity, compassion, tolerance, and a sense of justice. These qualities are common to men of good will of every race, color and creed. These qualities of men of good will are the primary source of freedom's basic human rights.

Little League critics ranked in rows. Pack the park full to the seams; But only one man is there who knows.

And he is the one who coaches the team. Everyone who has ever seen a ball game, be it little or major league, seems to know every mistake the coach and the players make.

This year instead of sitting around and discussing the mistakes of the coaches and players who did not get out there and give these kids a few pointers you have picked up throughout the year?

The summer baseball program is still in need of managers and could use more help. If you think that you would like to help the kids of Cameron learn to play baseball, get in contact with Bassel Wilson, president of the organization and he will assign you to a position.

When Bud Turner hit a hole in one in the recent Cameron golf tournament he overcame 8,606 to 1 odds. At least these are the findings of the New York World-Tele-

Outdoor Living

WHEN DUCKS FLARE AWAY

When ducks flare from your blind, after showing that they want to come in, look around to find out what they don't like about the setup.

It may be your cigarette smoke, empty shotgun shells, or scraps of luncheon paper fluttering in the wind.

Pick up the ale evidence and see what happens.

FOOLING A BUSHY — TAIL

Two hunters are better than one when it comes to stalking squirrels — if the hunters work together.

Squirrels know how to get out of sight when danger approaches, usually by slipping around to the other side of the tree.

So, the trick is for the hunter to remain perfectly still, while the other one makes a great to do of approaching the tree from the other side. The squirrel then will scurry around to the side away from the noisy hunter.

This gives the luring man on the opposite side a perfect shot.

RUST REMOVER

When you're on an extended hunting trip rust is likely to appear on your gun barrel, due to constant exposure.

Such spots easily can be removed by dipping in oil a piece of tough cardboard (or an empty shotgun shell) then rubbing it in some fine abrasive such as dust or powdered charcoal. Next, rub the rust spot with this made-on-the-spot gun cleaner.

Space problems happily solved here!

Families on-the-grow often create the need for more living space. Frequently this can only be obtained by moving into larger quarters. Best solution, in many cases, is to buy a new home of their own. If this raises the question of financing, we have the best answer to that. We'll arrange a home Loan that can be repayed just like rent. A single monthly repayment is usually set up to include principal interest and property taxes as well. Cost of the loan is low. Service prompt. Come in, talk it over.

In other cases, the necessary extra living space can be developed right in the family's present home by finishing off extra rooms in attic or basement, enclosing a porch, converting an attached garage. The necessary funds can be obtained on a low-cost Home Improvement Loan from us.

Milam's Wheat Vote

Milam and Navarro County wheat growers were the only two favoring the proposed wheat control program that failed to carry in Texas and the nation.

Advocates of government controls, perhaps surprised at Milam being the only Cen-Tex county voting the necessary two-thirds approval, ask why.

We can only guess, but that guess would be that Milam still has considerable numbers of small farm operations (1959 ag census said the average Milam farm is 200 acres), whereas fewer small farms continue to operate in most of the nation, with yield per acre a vital consideration.

This is a tribute to the hardiness of the people of this area, but at the same time is a measure of concern.

With about 2,000 small farms in Milam County, only about 200 of them or 10 per cent grow wheat. Most of them are in the northern part of the county. The southeastern part of the county is more suited for truck crops.

If there is small acreage involved, then it follows that an expected drop of unsupported wheat prices would cause the smaller producers to seek continued supports. That may be the case in Milam County.

There is also a great possibility that wheat growers nationally operate on larger tracts than the average here. So they stand to be more competitive with larger production.

Of course other Cen-Tex counties, with similar size operations, did not favor the wheat program. This suggests a rejection of the principle of government controls, most likely because of the frustrations in agriculture which have not been relieved by any variety of government control programs, regardless of administration.

The fact stands that fewer people can produce more agriculture products, this the envy of Russian agriculturists and a continuing problem to the American farmer.

Milam wheat growers stood almost alone in this percentage of approval given to the wheat proposal. It appears that the nationwide rejection may turn the tide against all control programs.

We Say Thanks

Good things must come to an end and the good thing ending this coming Friday is this newspaper's first major subscription drive in perhaps 40 years and one of the few in 104 years.

We have learned a great deal about ourselves and have watched a competitive circulation expansion program to a successful conclusion.

We asked for and received comments on this newspaper and have started the processes of change that will make The Herald more readable to more people in a wider area. For we have gained many new subscribers.

Constructive suggestions have already added at least three new features to the newspaper. And more will follow.

The primary question will remain "What is going on?" rather than total emphasis on "Who visited whom?"

Names are our business, we realize, and they too will play a more important role in Herald coverage. But we believe that action has brought Cameron and Milam County to its present place in Texas history and action only will carry it further along the progressive road.

We congratulate the campaign workers whose efforts made our circulation gains significant. We extend our appreciation to many new subscribers of Cameron and Milam area who found The Herald important to their knowing what is going on.

In the long run, we believe our readers will find this newspaper important to understanding the many changes underway in the 1960's and to saving considerable money in the advertising of local concerns. To all, we say thanks.

AND IT CAME TO PASS—

Committee To Study Education

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — Members of Gov. John Connally's "Committee of 25" — to study education beyond the high school — have only one thing in common — they're all Texans.

Twenty-three, however, have something else in common — they are college graduates. Ten hold master's degrees and five have doctorates.

Eight have something else in common — they attended Connally's alma mater, The University of Texas.

Other than that, their backgrounds vary.

Included are lawyers, bankers, contractors, telephone company executives, oilmen, engineers, a district judge, a hospital administrator and educator.

Committee is composed of: George R. Brown, Martin Burns, Morgan J. Davis, and Mrs. Ray L. Dudley of Houston.

Also, James H. Dunn and Mrs. Albert B. Martin of Amarillo; John Erik Johanson, Willis M. Tate and Gifford K. Johnson of Dallas.

Austinites are Vernon McDaniel, J. M. Odum and Dr. Harry H. Ransom.

Others include Sister Mary Vincent O'Donnell and H. B. Zachry of San Antonio; Elmer H. Danner, San Angelo; Jenkins Garrett, Fort Worth; and Judge Reynaldo G. Garza, Brownsville.

Also, John E. Gray, Beaumont; H. H. Murray, Longview; Ben W.

Jones, Corsicana; Dr. Abner McCall, Waco; Dr. Earl Rudder, College Station; Tom Sealy, Midland; M. Harvey Weil, Corpus Christi; and Dr. Dossie M. Wiggins, Lubbock.

ODESSA OUT

The expected bumper crop of college students in 1965 will have two more state colleges to choose from. Angelo State College in San Angelo and Pan American College in Edinburg join the state-supported system in the fall of 1965.

But Odessa Junior College still will be a junior college, despite strong efforts by Rep. George Cook of Odessa and Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso.

STATE STUDIES PROJECTED

When the 88th Legislative session ended, law-makers immediately began to study possible legislation for the 59th Legislature. Interim committees of legislators will look into guidance training testing in public schools; boating safety; reservoir planning; Texas boys; care and discovery of tuberculosis cases; poverty and indigency in the state; State and Local Tax Policy; and a thorough survey of the oil and gas industry.

WOMEN WIN SMALL VICTORY

The army of women's clubs, led by Mrs. Hermine Tabolowsky of Dallas, lost their session-long battle to get the Legislature to approve a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Bill Moore of Bryan to provide "equal rights" for women.

Moore's amendment was lodged in a reluctant House Insurance committee at the session's end.

But they did gain something in the way of equal property rights under bills passed by Rep. George Cowden of Waco to:

1. Give married women the right to manage and sell their separate property without their husband's consent.

2. Take away the "examination apart" required of notaries public.

NEW AG SETS RECORD

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr reported that his Bond Division set an all-time record for bonds examined and approved during the first four months of his administration.

He stated that the record of 274 bond issues approved — $189,000,000 worth — exceeded the first third of any calendar year since the Attorney General's office was first given these duties in 1905.

Also since January 1, Carr's office has handled a total of 1,311 cases; 986 won, 61 lost and 264 disposed of in other ways.

COTTON DEADLINE

Extended Agriculture Committee John C. White announced a 10-day extension of the cotton planting deadline in 17 coastal counties. Extension to June 1 was due to extremely dry weather in the coastal bend area.

Planting of the state's 1963 cotton crop is three-fourths complete, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Out Of The Past

IN 1901

The Herald reported: "Last Sunday morning there was difficulty in the Sandy Ridge neighborhood in which Tom Duffy shot J. M. Ray twice. The revolver used was a .38 caliber and was old and rusty. It appears that there were a number of spectators and that arrangements had been made for the two men to meet there and fight the matter out."

"The new depot of the S. A. A. P. Railroad is nearing completion and will soon be ready for occupancy. This will be a splendid station house when complete, offering comfort to employees and the traveling public."

IN 1938

Albert Collins elected president of the Cameron Athletic Council. The Herald reported the death of pioneer Dr. D. Monroe and the sudden death of Dr. W. R. Newton. Telegrams reprinted in the Herald following Dr. Newton's death came from prominent men throughout the state including Gov. James Allred.

In a special tribute to Dr. Newton, The Herald reported that a detail of state police were dispatched from the Dept. of Public Safety in Austin.

The Old Philosopher

Philosopher Looks Around And Finds Small

Towns, Like Farmers, Not Disappearing

Dear editor:

I have heard so much lately about the fear city people have that the farmer will disappear that it was a pleasure to read in a national magazine last night which a salesman earlier in the day wanted me to subscribe to but which I declined on the grounds that some magazines may disappear sooner than us farmers, that the city folks are now worrying over whether the small towns can survive.

As I understood it, the thinkers in the cities have decided that since towns depend on agriculture to survive, and since according to their figures agriculture is going under, the towns will follow.

In fact, some people are so worried about small towns that it wouldn't surprise me to learn somebody in Washington may come out before long with a sort of soil bank idea for town buildings. Leave every third building vacant and put it in the Vacant Building Bank.

Well, I'll tell you, I'm not worried about towns or farmers either.

Now it's true that the percentage of farmers has declined, from 50 per cent of the total population 40 years ago to only 8 per cent today, but that's just a bunch of figures.

Take the automobile industry. The number of car markers had dwindled over 500 per cent in the last 40 years. There used to be 25 or 30 car makers, now there are only four or five. Us farmers with 8 per cent of the total population are giants compared with the car makers with about one-millionth of one per cent, and I'm surprised there aren't more people in Washington wringing their hands over the situation.

Car makers are like farmers, just a few of us giants are surviving, but the results of our work producing and processing (you spread far afield. For example, want to underscore processing) agricultural products is now an $2-billion-dollar-a-year industry, the largest in the nation, according to the president of a big cereal company. Farming is bigger business than oil, steel, cosmetics or national defense.

I don't understand statistics. Every time I go into Cameron it seems like somebody has put up a new house. Poorest way I know to make a town disappear.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Firestone Dealer - 43 Years

Homes, businesses, industries, farming operations, recreation—they're all growing bigger and more numerous in the area served by Texas Power & Light Company.

That growth is reflected in the increased needs for electric power. TP&L's new Valley generating station is another evidence of that growth. This new station and other TP&L power plants built in recent years tell a story of growth and development in North, Central and East Texas that words alone cannot. There's the Collin plant, near McKinney; River Crest, near Paris; Lake Creek, near Waco; and Stryker Creek, near Nacogdoches, where work has already begun toward adding another large generating unit.

This program of constantly building to meet all present and future needs for electric power in the area it serves is TP&L's way of expressing confidence in continued growth and prosperity of the people and industries it serves.

It is a significant example of free enterprise at work — typical of the manner in which the investor-owned, tax-paying electric utilities of this nation are geared to supply adequately and economically all the electrical needs for a growing economy.

Below, TP&L's new Valley generating station near Savoy in North Texas.

To Avoid Trouble In Boating, Follow The Seas

When a boat is moving in the same direction as the waves it is "following the sea."

Nearly everyone has heard this expression used. But not all boaters know how to follow the waves with safety and comfort.

When waves travel along the water's surface their speed varies. The larger the waves, the faster it moves.

When waves are small a boat can straddle the crests of two or more and easily speed over them. But when hull and wave lengths are about the same, you have to deal with each wave separately.

If you've ever been caught in a storm, when the waves are high, you know what we mean.

One soon learns that if you go a trifle slower than large waves, they will overtake you, one by one. And if at that speed your boat tends to "settle by the stern", your chances of taking water over the transom is very real.

So, for safety's sake it's better to go a little faster than the waves, gradually overtaking them. That way there's less chance of shipping water.

If at that speed your boat also is fairly well up on plane, then it enjoys maximum stern freeboard.

Often your boat will tend to hand on the top of a large wave. When this happens, add a little power to avoid plowing too swiftly into the back of the wave ahead.

Until you gain experience, it's wisest to "go along" with the larger waves. This, because when you cross at angles to the direction of the waves, they lift the stern first and the boat tends to slide sideways down them. Not a comfortable feeling.

One of a series of reports by this newspaper and the Print Advertising Association on the advantages of print media.

Don't you read before you buy?

Most people do.
They count on advertising in print to give them the information they want on products that interest them—information on features... designs... and prices, for example.
People not only read about products and services, they show ads to their family and friends; they clip coupons for information and samples; they tear out ads to take along when they go shopping.
When you add it all up, print advertising—the kind you read in the pages of this newspaper—makes sense.
And because it measures up to the buying habits of most consumers, print makes sales.
Most people read—and then buy. Don't you?

HELD DOWN OR LIFTED UP

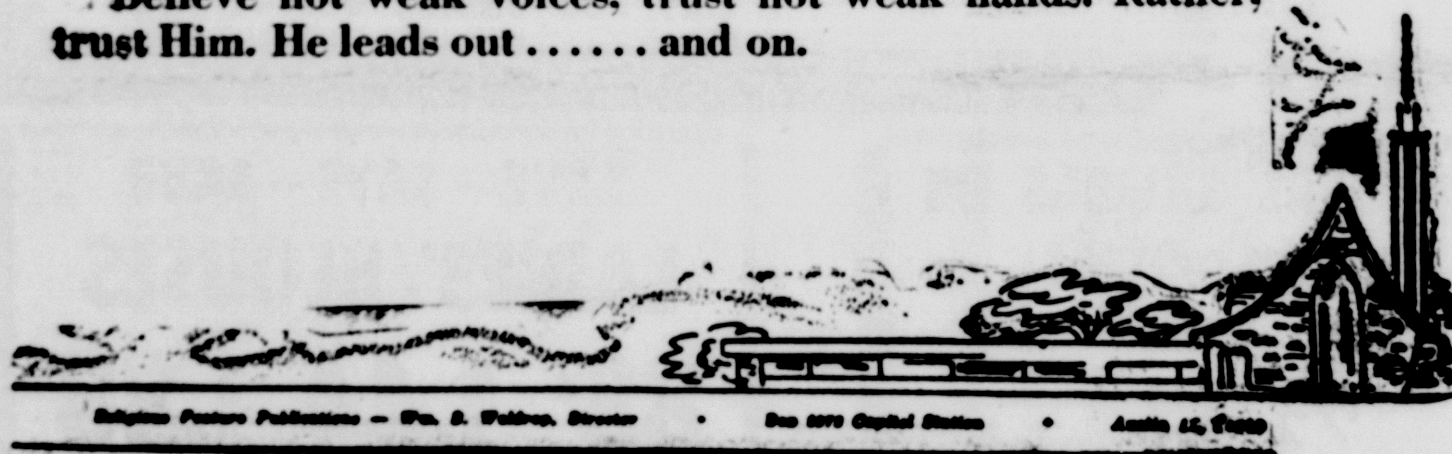

"CHRIST... IN WHOM WE HAVE REDEMPTION THROUGH HIS BLOOD, THE FORGIVENESS OF SINS, ACCORDING TO THE RICHES OF HIS GRACE" — EPH. 1:7

To what — to whom — do you turn when life experiences become uncertain, perplexing, undesirable? To whose voice do you listen?

However dense the mist and fog, there is the Strong Voice; there is the Helping Hand.

Believe not weak voices; trust not weak hands. Rather, trust Him. He leads out and on.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

Channel cats are the only fish of the catfish tribe to be considered truly game fish by Texas anglers. They rate on a par with white bass and crappie, and just below the lordly bass bass. More pugnacious than crappie, they equal white bass as scappers and measure only a few notches below black bass when it comes to putting up a fight. Also, they are the only cats to consistently strike on plugs and spoons.

Channel cats go by many names — mostly according to geography. Besides their ritzy Latin moniker, Ictalurus lacustris punctatus, they are known in some sections of the country as fiddlers. Other states call them spotted cat, forktail cat, marble cat, silver cat and white cat. But in Texas they are just plain channel cat, a very descriptive name.

Distributed all over Texas, the channel cat is most abundant in streams that have swift currents and channels. However, the species often is taken from the big lakes and quiet rivers.

This succulent fish is similar to the blue cat that grows to such a size in the Mississippi River and its tributaries. This same blue is found in almost all Texas lakes and rivers, though in somewhat smaller sizes than the Mississippi River variety.

You might say that the channel cat is the blue cat's little brother. Where the blue cat sometimes reaches 50 or 75 pounds in weight, the world record channel cat only tipped the scales at 57 pounds. A five pound channel cat is considered good size. Two or three pounds are most common, and make better eating.

So alike are the channel and blue cats that they often are mistaken for each other. Both are slim shaped with rather narrow heads and forked tails.

You can distinguish the species by the shape and structure of the anal fins. In channel cats the outer edge of this fin is rounded and has 25 to 30 rays. Blue cats have 31 to 33 rays in a straight anal fin. Also, the coloring in different in the two fish. Where channel cats are a darkish blue, or muddy green on the back, going into whites on the sides and stomach, the blues are a much clearer blue on top and more striking white underneath. Channel cats under five pounds also have dark spots along their sides. These spots tend to disappear when the fish grows beyond five pounds.

Nesting habits of channel cats are similar to those of most fish. Nests are laid in bank hollows or in other secluded spots such as underwater brush, sunken logs and stumps. Spring is spawning time usually in May but sometimes earlier or later, depending upon water temperature. Like humans, the menfolks generally mind the youngsters and do most of the housework, after the eggs are hatched.

The 5,000 to 7,000 eggs laid are each about the size of a buckshot. They stick to the nest in a gold-colored, jello-like lump. It takes about seven days for these eggs to hatch, which job the old man tends to, hovering over and fanning them with his tail, always alert to shoo away predators.

Small fry stay in the nest about a week under daddy's care before going out in to the wide, cruel world — usually following by the old man for several days who sees they aren't gobbled up.

Channel cats, like the other cats, eat just about everything when they are hungry. The young feed on insects, insect larval, and other crawfish, dead fish, small animals such as mice, carrion, or anything else that drifts by, providing it has a strong odor.

During daylight hours channel cats siesta in sheltered spots such as deep holes, overhanging rocks and underwater brush. At dark they move out into the swift and shallow water.

Almost any method of fishing will catch channel cats. One of the most effective in the old time — honored pole and line. Then there are drop lines and trotlines stretched across channels. Also what is known as a bank pole. The bank pole is a variation of the drop line, made by attaching a 2-6 hook to a 3-foot chalk line tied to any slim, green wood pole. Push butt of pole into mud bank so that the live bait will move and jump just below the water surface.

Minnows make good channel cat bait — either live or wadded balls of slightly ripe dead ones. Crawfish, all sorts of stink bait, chicken guts, cheese and dough also make excellent bait. Cottonseed meal and flour mixed with enough water to form a tough round ball is a bait for channels that is good at any time.

Channel cats are lively, healthy fish, almost free of parasites. They have an insatiable appetite and can thrive in almost any kind of water, even where other fish will die. In the north, channel cats have been known to survive after being frozen in ice all winter. Just so the gills are moist, channel cats are able to live.

Channel cats make great game fish. When snagged in shallow water they often leap out of the water like bass in an attempt to throw the hook. Interspersing these jumps, they take long, explosive runs into deep water.

And man, oh man, there is nothing better to eat than a meal of hot hushpuppies and fried channel catfish. The meat is flaky, juicy and white — a prime favorite in Texas and other southern states. As a warm water fish, channel cats can't be beat — whether on the end of your line or on the dinner table afterward.

Keep Nylon Knots Tied

One of the biggest disappointments a fisherman can experience is to lose a big bass because a knot came untied.

You can help prevent this, if you use nylon line, by burning the end of the line with a match or cigarette lighter.

The burning nylon line will form a small ball on its tip. When this ball cools it hardens firmly. Then if the knot is tied too loosely the ball on the end will prevent the line from slipping through the knot.

One of the new disposable Butane Lighters, now on the market for cigarette smokers, makes a handy addition to the tackle box for this purpose. It fits neatly in a tackle box tray. Big advantage is its very small flame which concentrates on a small area despite blowing winds. However, its "life" is not very long, although it is supposed to light 1,000 times.
